Do you want to run a business?

Great, I knew the answer would be yes!

So, make a sign, create a small business and ask you friends or an adult to stop by and sell them your products or services.

You have to be convincing and see if you can win them over to spend their hard earned money with you?

You can use the money you printed from last month (or on the next page) to sell your products or services.

So what business did you start?

What was the hardest thing about running your business?
