

Creative word and design exercise

Daymond John named his clothing brand FUBU. Over the years he has used many different logos but usually he used the letters of the brand F U B U to be his logo.

A logo is a design that represents the name of a brand or company.

Come up with a name for your new company and design a nice logo that shows what your company does.

Be creative and look at other logos around you!

